

Dr. Suranjan Das

Previous Work Experience:

Dr Das has taught at ICFAI Business School, IIM Indore and IIM Calcutta for a period of over three years. Prior to that, he has worked for over five years in the electronics component and steel industry in India, dealing with supply chain, international trade and computerization of materials management functions. His last assignment was as faculty at the Goa Institute of Management, for nearly six years.

Academic Qualifications:

Fellow in Management, Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad;
M.Sc. in Economics, from Calcutta University.

Academic Affiliations

He has participated and presented papers in Operational Research conferences in India (ORSI) and abroad (ICORD, IFORS Denmark) and had been an active member in their organizational committees for both national and international conferences. He has participated in faculty exchange programs in Belgium, France, Dubai, Singapore Denmark & the Netherlands and worked in some of their EU projects. He has been associated with World Bank projects on technology & knowledge management, & contributed in the World Development Report in 1998 on new product & process innovations.

Areas of interest:

His areas of interest cover quantitative modeling, operations research, new product & process innovations and design changes (covered in the doctoral dissertation), market research, and modeling of marketing applications.

Awards/distinctions

The World Bank (Development Research Group) nominated him, from the India Group, for their Annual Bank Conferences on Development Economics in 1998 and 2003.

E-mail: suranjan@spjimr.org